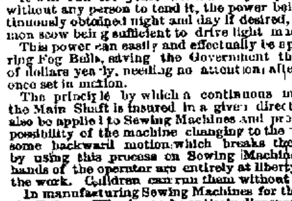
WALLETS in great variety, wholesale and retail by jan30 D. BUGBEE & CO.

Money Cannot Buy It

For Sight is Priceless!



THE DIAMOND GLASSES,

Manufactured by J. E. SPENCER & CO., New York which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the MOST PERFECT, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond" on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

The Scientific Principle on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose. Their finish and durability cannot be surpassed.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark <> stamped on every frame.

LOWELL & SPENCER,

Jewelers and Opticians, are Sole Agents for Bangor Maine, from whom they can only be obtained. These goods are not supplied to Peddlers, at any price.

PIANO FORTES

Put in complete order, tone and tune, without the necessity of sending them to a factory. The subscriber from Boston continues to offer his services to the citizens of Bangor and vicinity in every department of Piano Forte work. Being a practical Piano Forte worker of nearly twenty years experience, and more recently from the manufactory of Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS, of Boston, where he has been employed for more than six years in the Regulating Department, gives him the utmost assurance that he can offer himself fully to the confidence of the Musical Public. Those who may be contemplating sending their Pianos to Boston to be put in order, can have the opportunity to forego that inconvenience and expense, by leaving their orders with Messrs. LOWELL & SPENCER, Music Dealers, No. 14 Main Street, (can have the same work accomplished without moving them from the house, the renewing of which will render the action susceptible to the most delicate touch, and increase the power, volume, and purity of tone to their original capacity. Together with a style of tuning which will produce the most desirable results. Warranted to give satisfaction or no pay. The patronage of the public respectfully solicited.

Important Notice

TO

Ship Owners.

AMERICAN LLOYDS OFFICE,
Burlin Slip, New York,
Jan. 31, 1871.

The Register for 1871 is now ready. The January Supplements will contain the Introduction to the history of the "Register." In order to supply the demand for the Exposition, an extra edition will be printed and furnished gratuitously to all parties in possession of a book called the "Record," or a book called the "American Lloyds Universal."

HARTSHORN & KING.

The American Lloyds Register, being the acknowledged standard of American surveys of shipping, approved by underwriters generally, and adopted by the Peruvian Government as a standard for the selection of ships to carry Guano, also by the California Board of Underwriters and the West India Lloyds at Havana, &c., &c., it is important to owners to have their vessels surveyed and classed in its "Register." Having competent surveyors throughout the State of Maine, I am prepared to order or make surveys personally, of those apply, and to grant certificates under the "Standard Rules" issued by the Board. Also parties can be supplied with copies of the American Lloyds Register, for 1871, by sending their orders to me at the National Insurance Company, Bangor.

A New, Wonderful and Useful Invention,

CALLED A

Tidal Power,

Has been discovered at the expense of many years study and experiment, which will revolutionize the method of obtaining power for driving machinery of all kinds.

Although this power is obtained from the rise and fall of the tides, machinery can be driven at a long distance from the seat of power with this invention, by means of a wire rope which is now in common use for similar purposes.

This Machinery is so simple and occupies so little room that it can be erected on any wharf, and the expense of the Machinery very trifling compared to other power.

It will run for years without any expense and without any person to tend it, the power being continuously obtained night and day if desired, a common scow being sufficient to drive light machinery.

This power can easily and effectually be applied to ring Fog Bells, saving the Government thousands of dollars yearly, needing no attention after being once set in motion.

The principle by which a continuous motion of the Main Shaft is insured in a given direction, can also be applied to Sewing Machines and prevent the possibility of the machine changing to the troublesome backward motion which breaks the thread; by using this process on Sewing Machines, both hands of the operator are entirely at liberty to hold the work. Children can run them without trouble.

In manufacturing Sewing Machines for the future the Balance Wheels can be entirely dispensed with, consequently making a great saving in the manufacturing. This principle can be applied to every machine at a trifling cost.

The application of this principle can also be made to foot Lathes, the motion of the foot being hardly perceptible and more speed attained than with the crank. It also saves the motion of the body when propelling the machine, and favors the ankle.

The "Close Treadle" for Sewing Machines, constructed to embody the above named principle and capable of being applied to sewing machines of any size, kind, or shape, are now being manufactured, and in a few days may be seen at the clothing store of E. C. Smart on Exchange Street, in operation attached to a sewing machine from the manufactory of B. P. Howe, successor to the late A. B. Howe, the originator of the "Improved Howe Sewing Machine."

A license to manufacture and sell ten thousand of the "Close Treadle" having been granted to A. E. Kimball, agent for the "Improved Howe Sewing Machine," he will immediately introduce them to this market through his agents, who will apply them to machines of any manufacture at prices so low that every person owning a Sewing Machine will be sure to have one.

It is a useful and valuable invention, and is worthy of the investigation of all scientific men.

Letters Patent were issued for this Invention, dated December 27th, 1870, obtained through the agency of Fred H. Coombs of this City.

Bangor, Jan. 27th, 1871.

THE SHERMAN—ATWOOD CONTROVERSY.

Letter from Dr. B. F. Tefft.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15th 1871.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

SIR:—Some friend having sent me the copies of your paper, containing two "cards" from J. E. Sherman, the latter one nearly two columns long—I hereby send you a few passing notes.

The first article, in which the writer undertook to bring himself into notice by kicking up a controversy with the so-called Atwood Company, no one deemed worthy of an answer, as it could injure nobody but its author; and nearly the whole of this second one deals with matters between himself and his "uncle Atwood," in which I at least have no possible concern.

In his second communication he acknowledges that he and I have yet certain business interests in common; and one would expect a man of any common sense, in such a situation, to do as little as possible towards injuring the copartnership to spite even his "Uncle Atwood." But the reader will see in this what a Hotspur I have had to deal with.—Thrown into a tempest by certain gossipping letters from ignorant and irresponsible correspondents of his own calibre, and lashed into a shallow frenzy by certain equally ignorant and irresponsible newspaper paragraphs, which I know nothing about, and have never seen, but which he imagines I must have written, he suddenly jumps to the conclusion that somebody's brains must be knocked out, and so knocks out his own!

As to any ownership I may have in the so-called Sherman process, outside of Canada, the documents still existing will carry their own proof. They are business matters and not fit subjects for a newspaper controversy. Mr. Sherman will learn quite soon enough before the proper tribunal, what I consider to be my rights. One of the many persons in this country, who claim to have been injured by him in business transactions, informed me the other day, that he had commissioned an attorney to visit England and bring him to a settlement, or to justice. Others, this gentleman informed me, are waiting their opportunity upon his return to the United States. Among the rest I will also wait; and take such steps as may be dictated by my interest, or by what is still more probable, my piety.

But some one may be curious to know, what has stirred up this tea-pot tempest in the head of Mr. Sherman? It cannot be denied, for there is a valuable and common friend in England who knows that all the business between Mr. Sherman and myself was amicably settled up when I was leaving England. I had made a proposition several months before to settle up and leave. But he would not consent. He claimed that it would injure him there and at home should we separate. When I finally resolved upon some settlement and a separation, for reasons which I need not state, it required time and argument, not only on my part, but on the part of our mutual friend, to gain his consent. It was however gained. An amicable arrangement was effected. Not an unpleasant word passed between us. We still remained connected in business; I deemed it my duty to protect his interests; and I supposed he would look out for mine.

In the genuine spirit of such an understanding, on learning that James E. Atwood, Mr. S's uncle, of whom I had heard many bitter things from Mr. Sherman, was trying to get a patent for making steel, and fearing it might be Mr. Sherman's injury to have him succeed—though I had no personal interest in the Sherman process in the United States, but simply to serve Mr. Sherman's interest—I wrote to several influential friends in Washington, and finally to the Patent Office directly, protesting in the strongest terms, and in Mr. Sherman's behalf, as well as in the behalf of several persons who had purchased of him, against Mr. Atwood. My ground was that Mr. Sherman was out of the country and could not defend himself, that his caveat was filed in the Department and ought not to be rendered worthless by granting a patent for a similar process to another party; that, by so doing, they would wrong a great number of good citizens, who had paid large amounts of money to Mr. Sherman, and who had been assured by him that he had protected them by this caveat. From the Department I received an answer, that, whatever Mr. Sherman may have said to his purchasers, he had no such caveat filed in that Department, and that I had leave to withdraw my protest, or give some better reasons why the letters—patent should not be issued to Mr. Atwood.

Silenced by this flat contradiction between Mr. Sherman and the Patent Office, and learning sometime afterwards that it was Mr. Atwood and not Mr. Sherman who had filed a caveat, I wrote nothing more to Washington.

One of my Washington letters, however, was addressed to the Hon. S. C. Fessenden, whom I knew to have bought an interest in the Sherman process. He had informed me that Mr. Sherman and his purchasers had nothing to fear from Mr. Atwood. This satisfied me; and I acted accordingly, still opposing Atwood and aiding the Sherman cause till I could report to and hear from Mr. Sherman. I wrote that gentleman a plain but friendly letter. Soon afterwards Mr. Fessenden came to see me in Bangor. He stated his grievances to me. He gave me a full history of Mr. Sherman's transactions with him, and referred to similar complaints raised by Mr. Risley of Washington, lawyer Whiting of New York and many other parties. He thought he had abundant grounds for a prosecution, and wanted to know my opinion of what was best to be done. My answer was, and I urged this answer through a whole afternoon and evening, that he had better let Mr. Sherman alone; that Sherman had a great discovery in hand and was likely to make a large sum of money out of it; that it was his money back, and not the punishment of Mr. Sherman, which I wished he would content himself to seek; we closed the consultation in this spirit; and I sat down soon after as a friend and wrote to Mr. Sherman a general statement of all these matters.

By this time, for the reasons which the reader will easily see in the above statement, I ceased to offer any opposition to Mr. Atwood. He had obtained his patent, not only without my help, but against every effort and protest I could make in behalf of Mr. Sherman. He had formed his company, received his pay for his patent, and was ready to commence operations; in spite of everything I had thought it proper to do against him.—But a wise man never fights over again a battle that has been once fought out and lost. I had fought it, remember, not for myself—for I had no interest in it—but for Mr. Sherman. Behold the reward a man gets for doing acts of disinterested kindness to men of the character and calibre of this gentleman.

His anger arises, not only by reason of these faithful letters, but because he finds that in addition to my ownership with him in countries lying outside of the United States, I have finally consented to take an interest with his arch enemy, his "uncle Atwood."—There seems to be a deadly feud between these gentlemen, and in Mr. Sherman's philosophy there seems to be no room for the idea that a man can be great and just enough to have business with two quarrelling relatives without adopting the family broils on either side. Nor would it ever have been known that there is a broil, had it not been for the [illegible] of this silly per[illegible] formance is his statement that he was everything, and that I was nothing, while in Europe. Taking him for what he considers himself, he might say the same of us in the United States; for I know of no man anywhere of greater consequence—in his own good opinion; and he has not read the Wise Man enough to learn the deep meaning of the maxim—"let another man praise thee."

When we went to England, and after we arrived there, we divided the work we had to do very naturally between us. He was to be the practical, working, blacksmithing man; and that for the good reason that he was a blacksmith. To me was awarded all the diplomatic work, because that had been more or less my business. The most of our work, and nearly all of it for months, was this foundry work. Consequently, when anybody wanted any experiments performed, they requested me to send them Mr. Sherman.—Would they be likely to "recognize," as Mr. Sherman calls it, that is, call for my labor, when that smutty work was to be performed? Certainly not! They had known me before in my true capacity; and they knew that I was at least not a blacksmith. Him they knew only as a blacksmith; and whenever they wished to see any performances in that line—and these constituted the most of what we had to do—the man of the anvil and forge and smutty face, of course was called for, and as he says "recognized." If he can get any comfort out of that, in his present situation, for pity's sake let him have it!

Now, the simple truth is, Mr. Sherman and Mr. Atwood have got a most valuable process of making steel out of the very lowest grades of iron. One has a patent in the British dominions. The other in the United States.—The verbiage of their patents is almost indentical; the processes themselves are somewhat different. They have a quarrel between them as to which of them was the discoverer. Of that question I know nothing and care less. Being an owner under both, I am in a position to be impartial; and I care not which bird comes out best. But in the United States, Mr. Atwood has the patent and of course stands ahead. So far as I can learn Mr. Sherman has no rights in the United States. If he ever had any, he is said to have sold them at least entirely out. But whether he has sold all, or less than all, or even more than all, which some of his purchasers maintain, he has no right now, till he proves himself against Mr. Atwood's witnesses to have been the discoverer. In the meantime Mr. Atwood has rights. He has legal if not moral rights. He may have both. It is those rights that the Atwood Company are now selling. They are not selling, nor are they offering to sell anything belonging to Mr. Sherman. He may therefore rest in quietude of soul, and save himself the exquisite pain of becoming, from this time forward, "the subject of a newspaper controversy." No one of us will ever meddle with him if he will indulge his modesty so much as to cease his shallow letters and keep the peace.

Should he, however, feel a temptation again to dabble with his favorite game of "cards" —newspaper cards I mean—let him think whom he is to make his antagonist—let him prudently reflect, who, in such an encounter, would be most likely to hold the winning hand.

THE ADDITIONAL PENSION BILL.

The following is the text of the act approved Feb. 14, 1871, granting pensions to soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, and the widows of deceased soldiers:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to place on the pension roll the names of the surviving officers and enlisted and drafted men, including militia and volunteers, of the military and naval service of the United States, who served sixty days in the war of Great Britain of eighteen hundred and twelve, and were honorably discharged, and to such other officers and soldiers as may have been personally named in any resolution of Congress for any specific service in said war, although their term of service may have been less than sixty days, and who at no time, during the late rebellion against the authority of the United States, adhered to the cause of the enemies of the government giving them aid and comfort, or exercised the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States, and who shall take and subscribe an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and the surviving widows of such officers and enlisted and drafted men: Provided, That such widows shall have been married, prior to the treaty of peace which terminated said war to an officer, or enlisted or drafted man, who served as aforesaid in said war, and shall not have remarried.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That this act shall not apply to any person who is receiving a pension at the rate of eight dollars or more per month; nor to any person receiving a pension less than eight dollars per month, except for the difference between the pension now received and eight dollars per month. Pensions under this act shall be at the rate of eight dollars per month, except as herein provided when a person is receiving a pension of less than eight dollars per month, and shall be paid to the persons entitled thereto from and after the passage of this act for and during the term of their natural lives.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That before the name of any person shall be placed upon the pension roll under this act, proof shall be made, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe, that the applicant is entitled to a pension under the provisions of this act; and any person who shall falsely take any oath required to be taken under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of perjury: and the Secretary of the Interior shall cause to be stricken from the pension roll the name of any person whenever it shall appear, by proof satisfactory to him, that such name was put upon such roll through false or fraudulent representations as to the right of such person to a pension under the provisions of this act. The loss of a certificate of discharge shall not deprive the applicant of the benefits of this act, but other proof of services performed and of an honorable discharge, if satisfactory shall be deemed sufficient.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the provisions of sections twelve and thirteen of an act entitled "An act supplementary to 'An act to grant pensions,' approved July four, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and of sections two, three, and four of an act entitled "An act supplementary to several acts relating to pensions," approved June six, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, shall be applicable to the pensions granted by this act.

THE LABOR SYSTEM AT ORONO. Our readers will be interested in the following statement of Prof. Johnson, Superintendent of the farm of the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, on the working of the manual labor system among the students:

"On looking over my account-book, I find the sum of the charges against fifteen students who have been here quite constantly during the past year, amounts to $1,930,41. Of this sum they have paid in work, $800.91. One hundred dollars of this was paid for digging the cellar of the laboratory; about $60 for surveying and ditching where we under-drained; $25 for carrying the mail; and various other sums should be charged either to the construction account or the general account. In earning this large sum of money, I question whether any one of these students interrupted materially his college studies. It is often true that the most industrious, faithful laborers on the farm are the best students. One desirable result attained here and observable to all, is, that labor is made honorable. One of the best scholars in his class has assisted our washer-woman regularly every Monday afternoon, using the washing-machine. He did it with entire cheerfulness, and had no thought of losing caste by doing it. A son of one of the most wealthy farmers in the State has with the same cheerfulness and in the most faithful manner assisted regularly in milking the cows. The money earned by labor or the information obtained by it is not, however, the object of primary importance with the students. We wish it to be fully understood by all, that students come here to obtain, in the words of our organic act, a liberal education. This is, and should be, the leading, primary object. But subsidiary to this comes in the labor plan, and if it does not interfere with the leading object, is there not a great gain in it? It is needless to ask such a question of poor parents struggling to educate their sons, or of any man of experience who has considered well the value of industrious habits, and the pernicious effect of so educating young men that they often come to esteem manual labor degrading."

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated, will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these Bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these Bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 5⅛ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9¼ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Memorial anniversaries in this country awaken but little sentiment and those which have obtained public recognition as legal holidays are signalized principally by the suspension of business the great wheels of trade ceasing their revolutions with a grumbling creak in obedience to necessity rather than in sympathy with the occasion With our people to whom in the most literal sense time is money who are serious even in their amusements and who find the days too short [illegible] which they would compress the work of a life time within the compass of [illegible] days are simply tolerated, the [illegible] community just deigning to notice the [illegible] arrest of regular avocations while [illegible] are impatiently stricken from the [illegible] as marking lost days

[illegible] House debate on the McGarrahan [illegible] on Monday after speeches by Mr Mar[illegible] in favor of the minority report [illegible] by Mr Garfield of Ohio sustaining the majority report Mr Peters of Maine closed the debate The House then rejected, 100 to [illegible] Mr Cook's resolution declaring in effect that neither party had proved a title and directing proceedings to be instituted to recover and assert the title of the United States A motion to table the whole subject was refused [illegible] to 125 and Mr Bingham's substitute from the minority committee was adopted by a vote of 110 to 91

The substitute directs the Secretary of the Interior to cause the record of the patent of the Panoche Grande to be transcribed into the records the same as it stood on the record book of the General Land Office at the time it was examined without any limitation or erasure whatever so that the legal effect of the record as transcribed shall be the same as if the original record had never been interfered with or mutilated, and authorizes and requests the President of the United States to [illegible] the premises whatever may in his judgment be just and equitable, without regard to any action or proceeding had subsequent to the 11th of March 1863, the date of the patent

The vote was clinched by a motion to reconsider and another to table the former motion which was agreed to—100 to 94 Mr Bingham's substitute was then passed as a joint resolution by 95 to 82, and the action repeated by a repetition of the above process the House refusing to order either tellers or the yeas and nays as demanded by Mr. Sargent.

Thus the House has refused to take final action upon this notorious case, and in the face of the facts and in defiance of all consistency has remanded a question which it has failed to decide to be fought over again in the Executive Departments Surely this is the most remarkable transaction of a remarkable Congress

Mr Samuel F Dike, of Bath one of the Trustees of the Military and Naval Orphan Asylum answers some of the criticisms of the management of that institution in a very pleasant letter to the Kennebec Journal Mr Dike urges that the objection of exclusive local control is owing to the difficulty of inducing persons from other sections to accept positions and labor for the good of the institution He states that none of the Trustees have any compensation, while some of them have been generous donors, Captain Patten, President of the Board, giving one thousand dollars in money, Hon. J P Morse, a like sum and both of them lending their services to any extent. Mr. Dike confirms the reception of $30,000 from the State, Bath having contributed $5000, and states that a legacy is soon expected from the estate of H. Ward Esq of England The reports he says have been for some time in the hands of the Governor and Council. The iron fence is considered by the Trustees more desirable than a wooden one, and Gen. Hyde is said to have constructed it for 10 per cent. less than similar work for other parties. The deed, Mr Dike says, was recorded at the Sagadahoc Register's office, and sent to Augusta, and if the copy is missing it can easily be replaced, and its loss cannot be ascribed to the Trustees. We have given the substance of the letter as a matter of fairness and courtesy, the institution having been criticised in correspondence published by us, but while we should cheerfully give space to any statement of the kind addressed to us, we must decline compliance with the request of Mr D. for the publication in full of a long letter which has already appeared in another journal

In the Senate on Monday, Frank Blair read a number of extracts from the N Y Tribune published in 1860 and 1861, and declared that it was mainly due to the representations held out by Horace Greeley and Wendell Phillips—that the South ought to go in peace—that A H Stevens was defeated in his efforts to restrain the Georgia Convention, and that the opposition of Georgia would have arrested the rebellion Mr Blair is evidently unaware of or disbelieves Mr Stephens' denial of having ever delivered the anti-secession speech before the Convention which has been attributed to him, and the text of which was so extensively published at the time The new Senator is proving himself a true Bourbon by trying to use the stale and silly arguments of the equal responsibility of those who inaugurated a slave holders' rebellion and those who denounced the crime of slavery Such vapid talk is as entirely out of date as Mr Blair seems out of place in his new position

A very animated discussion took place in the Dominion Parliament at Ottawa on Monday evening with reference to the scope and purposes of the High Commission Sir John A MacDonald was closely questioned and stated his belief that the Imperial Government desired to grant full protection to Canadian rights He said the Fishery license had proved a failure 364 vessels licensing in 1866 and only 25 in 1869, the Americans disregarding them altogether The Premier could not assert that the Fenian raid claims would be considered but correspondence was being held with the Imperial Government on the subject He was compelled to admit that Sir Edward Thornton had negotiated relative to the powers of the Commission without consulting the Dominion authorities Mr McKenzie and Sir A Galt expressed the belief that the Fenian raids would not be considered while Sir George Cartier stated that Her Majesty's Government had promised that these claims for Fenian invasions should be considered by the Commission appointed to adjust the "Alabama" question The importance of maintaining Canadian rights in connection with the St Clair Flats Canal was also strongly urged

THE WASHINGTON CARNIVAL The Boston Advertiser's special says the festivities called the 'Carnival,' had the advantage of a bright, delightful day Monday and the programme was faithfully and efficiently carried out. The arrangements appear to have been perfect, and the avenue from nine till six o'clock was lined with a dense throng varying from ten to twenty thousand The races and other exercises however, did not amount to much, and were distributed over too much time In the evening, the avenue was brilliantly and elaborately illuminated throughout its length Chinese lanterns being suspended on wires over the curbs at intervals of only five or six feet. Numerous calcium lights shed their intense radiance over the street all the buildings were illuminated and decorated and as many as fifty thousand people were promenading the sidewalks There was a fine display of fireworks on the lot south of the Treasury The evening display was one of the finest ever seen in the country

The New York papers of Tuesday devote considerable attention to the news from San Domingo The Times says—

The report of the Commission will enable us to comprehend the status of Baez and the strength or weakness of his title, and we are confident that the report will vindicate the Administration at Washington against the discreditable aspersions made against it—These points gained, the way will be cleared for a dispassionate consideration of a policy on which alone the project of annexation should finally rest

The Tribune says

Whatever their report may be we feel assured that it is made with intelligence and conscience and that its results will be adopted with some approach to unanimity by public opinion

The World says

If we must annex at all for the sake of a naval station let us limit the acquisition to Samana or else negotiate with both governments for the whole island It would cost less to govern and protect the whole island than half of it With the Haytiens warlike hostile and morbidly jealous, we should have to keep a naval force always hovering around the island and from six to ten regiments of wars stationed in Dominica Under any circumstances one half of the island would be an unnatural and incongruous possession

On Monday evening Gov Claflin received the following telegram from Senator Sumner

Governor—I passed an excellent night Am comfortable while quiet, but am feeble

CHARLES SUMNER

Advices from China recount that ex Secretary Seward and party while visiting Woochang opposite Hankow were besieged by a crowd of boys and beggars clamoring for gratuities, and the party being unprovided with small funds, the crowd pelted them severely with stones The Grand, High Supreme functionary at Hankow, subsequently apologized for the attack and the illustrious party has moved on its course

The woolen manufacturers and woolen Commission merchants before the Ways and Means Committee on Tuesday, asked for a uniform duty of 3 cents, as on carpet wools or free wool, and consented to a reduction to 30 per cent. ad valorem on manufactured woolens. The speakers were Mr Spaulding, of the firm of Hunt & Co of New York, Mr Hunt of the firm of Tillinghast & Co, and Mr Harris of Rhode Island This is the first time that the manufacturers have appeared asking for a reduction of the tax.

The Washington correspondent of the N Y Evening Post, referring to a contradiction of his statement with reference to the proposition for the purchase of British North America, says

"I have no less authority than Secretary Fish for the confirmation of my statement that the United States High Commissioners have been requested, in more than one official letter, to bring this question before the Joint High Commission when it assembles That such proposition will be made is not doubted here in administration circles, and I have high authority for saying that it meets with the entire approval of President Grant.

Careful inquiry shows that the New England Senators and those representing States bordering on the British possessions on the north, are unanimous in desiring the annexation of British America. This, together with the often expressed views of the President in favor of territorial expansion, would of itself, it is held, induce our High Commissioners to propose the subject, even if not requested officially to do so.

FOREIGN NOTES.

It is believed the French Assembly will [illegible] triumvirate including an Admiral and General to arrange the terms of peace. That they will then pass an electoral law and dissolve, thus slighting the responsibility of reorganizing France on other shoulders.

It is claimed that the Germans will certainly enter Paris on the 24th. Every precaution will be taken for the Emperor's safety. The houses on the route will be occupied by German police.

What terms Prussia really will make is unknown, and is not [illegible] In the House of Commons on Monday, Mr. Gladstone in reply to an inquiry, denied that Her Majesty's government had received any proposals for the purchase of the British Dominions in North America. Mr Gladstone took occasion to deprecate the introduction of questions of this character, pending the sittings of the Commission at Washington.

The bill granting an annuity to Princess Louise has passed its final reading in the House of Commons. The University test bill was discussed Monday evening. Amendment practically disqualifying all except the church of England men, and tending to the abolition of clerical fellowship were rejected after a keen debate, and the bill passed

The Prussian Cross Gazette, corroborates the rumors that the opening of the German Parliament will be postponed in consequence of the prospects of peace with France

THE BATH MILITARY AND NAVAL ORPHAN ASYLUM

AUGUSTA, Feb 20, 1871

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

In my letter of Feb 11th, I made some criticisms upon the management of the above named Institution One of the Trustees replies in the Bath Times I must still assert that every one of my statements were correct I might have gone further and criticised the treatment of some of the orphans there but I did not as I knew that the best of people were liable to make mistakes some times.

The Reports were not forwarded until after called for by the Legislature, when they should have been made to the Governor and Council of 1870, as were all the reports of other public institutions The purport of the resolves in 1869 and 1870 in favor of the Asylum was, that a perfect title to the property should be vested in the State. Through inadvertence it took several Deeds to accomplish the object, so that the Governor and Council, or the most of them, were compelled to suspect that the intention was to make such a Deed as would appear to vest the title of the property in the State but which really did not.

I do not blame the Trustees of the Asylum for getting their appropriations Were I one of them, I should probably do the same thing Neither do I find fault with the objects of the Asylum, but have I not the right to doubt whether these appropriations were wisely made, or at any rate wisely expended, when I have to the contrary? Are beautiful mansions, with splendid grounds and costly iron fences necessary to these orphans who will not be helpless orphans in a few short years or at least will not need Asylums? In all the appropriations made for this Asylum the State did not contemplate anything more than expenditures temporary in their character, as these orphans are in a few years to out-grow the need of aid from the State In 1870 this State appropriated for Soldiers' Pensions $40,000 A very large proportion of this went to aid the orphans of soldiers and the minor brothers and sisters of soldiers A large part of that appropriation was unexpended The appropriation for orphans of soldiers and seamen, under the care of the Board of Guardians, was $15 000 a portion of which was also unexpended and this with the $15,000 to the Bath Asylum, does show that the State has cared and means to care tenderly for "these little children whose fathers now sleep the last sleep of the brave" But is all this machinery necessary? Are the State and these orphans reaping benefits proportionate to the expense?

The Trustee quotes Latin upon me, which is a stunner that I cannot answer, as I do not understand it but a friend who does gives me a Latin quotation which he says is just the thing for me to say "Amicus Hyde, sed magis amica veritas"

MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD
Extension Bonds.
[First Mortgage]

It is generally well known the Maine Central Railroad commences at Danville Junction and from thence to Portland the Road is a part of the Grand Trunk Railway For the use of this piece of Road (some 28 miles) the Maine Central pays to the Grand Trunk a rental which for some years past has amounted to some $ 0 000 per annum The Maine Central having leased the Portland & Kennebec R R and thus joined that entire Road with its own under one management has decided to obviate the necessity of using the Grand Trunk road from Danville to Portland by building an Extension of its own road from Danville Junction to CUMBERLAND using the Portland and Kennebec R R from thence to Portland

This Extension has already been surveyed and more than three fourths of the requisite grading and all the stone work and masonry completed and the road will be ready for the iron (already contracted for) in the Spring and prepared for business soon afterward To aid in accomplishing this work the Maine Central Railroad has issued its Bonds to the amount of $500 000 payable in thirty years from October 1st 1870

These Bonds are secured by a First and only Mortgage upon the Extension and the Entire line of the Maine Central with all its property (which would readily sell for three times the amount of its Bonded debt) is holden for the payment of the Interest and Principal of these Bonds

The security is

UNQUESTIONABLE.

A large part of this issue has already been taken in this and other States, and the remainder is offered for sale at a price which makes them one of the most desirable investments in the market

The Bonds bear Interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and both

Principal and Interest payable
IN GOLD.
Free from Government Tax
Coupons Payable in Boston, April 1st and October 1st, in each Year

When it is considered that by building this Extension the Road can have a complete line of its own through to Portland at an outlay of some $30 000 (gold,) per year for interest, instead of paying some $70,000 per year rental to another corporation, the commendable economy of the undertaking will be apparent

The local business alone, on the Extension will be profitable, besides the advantage to the Road of thus being connected by the same gauge with all the great Railroads of the Country.

Bonds issued in denominations of $500 and $1000 each.

The highest market price will be allowed for Government, State, and City Bonds, Bonds of other Railroads and Corporations, and all marketable securities, in exchange for above

LATEST FROM EUROPE

ALARMING REPORTS OF THE EMPEROR WILLIAM'S SICKNESS.

LATEST NEWS FROM PARIS

THE PRUSSIANS TO HOLD METZ.

Opening of the Austrian Reichsrath

AFFAIRS IN PARIS.

Paris, Feb. 20. It is probable that the armistice will be extended until the 1st of March. The scarcity of fuel is much felt. The administration of the Northern Railway, shares with the population the coal arriving daily. Paris will be lighted with gas on Saturday. The London mails for Paris are now forwarded via Calais. The London Daily News says there are 17 vessels in the French port of Dunkirk, all formidably armed.

CLUB EXCLUSION.

Paris, Feb. 21. The Jockey and Royale Clubs have resolved that all candidates of German birth shall be excluded. The city is quiet.

RUMORS OF THE EMPEROR'S ALARMING ILLNESS.

London, Feb. 21. The Standard is informed that the health of the Emperor of Germany leads to grave anticipation. A dispatch from Saarbruck says that all the German wounded capable of rejoining their regiments, are being sent to the front. There is a large assemblage of troops at Cologne.

THE GERMANS TO RETAIN METZ.

Paris Feb. 20. It is settled that the Prussians will occupy and retain Metz. The line of annexation will include Pont-a-Mousson. March the 15th has been fixed as the time for the payment of half of the indemnity.

FOOD SUPPLIES.

Since Feb. 30, there have entered on the Great Northern Railroad 14,352 oxen, 15,352 sheep, 1,770 cows, 8,768 pigs and immense stocks of grain, flour and biscuits.

London, Feb. 21. The Mayor and ten Councillors of Alencon have been held as hostages in consequence of the refusal of the city to pay the fresh contributions imposed by the Germans.

M. THIERS' PLAN.

Special to the New York World—

Paris, Feb. 21. M. Thiers's plan is to conclude peace upon Bismarck's terms, clear France of the Germans, bring back the French army, giving the command to Gen. Changarnier, induce the National Assembly to proclaim the charter of 1830 the supreme law, and provide for a Plebiscite whether Count De Paris shall be King.

The opinion grows that the German terms will be acceded to without modification.

Bismarck is willing to resign Metz if Luxembourg is given to Germany. He is pressing M. Thiers very hard to conclude a peace and using even threatening language.

London, Feb. 21. Thiers, Favre and Picard arrived in Paris yesterday and were to go to Versailles to-day.

All the European States will recognize the new French government.

M. Buffet, the new Minister of Finance, has arrived at Bordeaux and his appointment announced in the Assembly.

Duke De Broglie has been appointed ambassador of France to London.

The Crown Prince of Prussia has returned to Versailles from Tours after four days' absence.

Carlsruhe, Feb. 21. Bismarck is desirous of ascertaining the views of the leading South German statesmen in regard to peace and has invited them to the conference. Von Bray, the Bavarian Minister, has gone to Versailles in response to the invitation.

The German sea captains taken prisoners by the French and released, have reached Orleans, on their way home.

Geneva, Feb. 21. A number of the French soldiers who surrendered to the Swiss troops on entering our territory, have been sent under guard to the eastern Cantons to prevent their escape into France.

Berlin, Feb. 21. The Nord Deutsch Zeitung says that Bismarck does not follow personal, but a German policy, and that he will be the most unpopular man in Germany if he does not bring the peace negotiations to an issue which the people after their sacrifices have a right to expect.

PARLIAMENT.

London, Feb. 21. In the House of Lords to-night, the sitting was mainly occupied with the consideration of the ecclesiastical tithes bill and other measures of local importance.

Earl Granville defended the withdrawal of the British Legation from Paris. He said that Lord Lyons could better serve the interests of the English residents outside than within the walls of Paris.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Gladstone objected to producing the Instructions given the Anglo-American Commission. He believed that the improvement of the maritime international law would certainly be one of the topics in their deliberations.

Mr. Trevelyan introduced a resolution favoring the army reorganization on a plan different from that proposed by the government. A long debate followed, which was closed by Mr. Cardwell in an eloquent speech against the resolve. The resolve was lost by a majority of 118 against.

Paris, Feb. 21. The Gaulois states that Luxembourg undertakes to pay Prussia two million francs for its breach of neutrality and allow the Prussians to occupy Luxembourg fortress.

Rothschild has advanced 800,000 francs to pay the St. Denis indemnity demand.

Paris will not have gas for the next 15 days.

AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Feb. 20.

THE REICHSRATH

re-assembled to-day. The new Ministry were present and the ministerial statement was submitted. It appears from that that the Government will abide by the Constitution, but it is willing to initiate measures for the alleviation of the unnecessary restrictions upon the autonomy of the Provinces. The Freundenblatt says the relations of Austria with Russia and Prussia, are unaffected by the change of Government. The Wiener Press makes the statement that Prince Metternich is anxious to secure the embassy to London.

HUNGARY.

Pesth, Feb. 20. In the Lower House of the Austro-Hungarian Parliament to-day, a declaration was made by the Government that interference with the internal affairs of Roumania was not intended so long as the powers are agreed upon the principle of non-intervention. The statement was also made that intervention in the Franco-Prussian war could not well be effected.

BOSTON ITEMS

Boston, Feb. 21.

The Transcript learns that through the instrumentality of National Bank examiners in this District, several delinquencies in the conduct of officers of Boston National Banks have been brought to light. The extent of the misapplication of funds has not been exactly ascertained, but it is confidently believed the banks will not suffer loss except loss of services of unfaithful officials.

The Boston French relief fund amounts to $70,000.

The Merrimac River at Lowell has risen three feet from the recent rain.

FROM HAVANA.

Havana, Feb. 21.

A force of 600 or 700 insurgents under, Britel, were defeated at Manacos, in the jurisdiction Moron, with a loss of 15 killed. Two Spaniards were killed.

The insurgents are awaiting the arrival of Salome Hernandez, with 400 men and cannon from Camaguay, with the purpose of attacking isolated Spanish detachments, and protecting the debarkation of Quesada's expedition.

EX-GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN.

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 21.

Ex-Governor Chamberlain of Maine, lectured before the Library Lyceum last evening, and visited the Navy Yard to-day, where he was handsomely received and entertained by Commandant Pennock. There will be no business at the yard on Washington's birthday.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS

THIRD SESSION.

Washington, Feb. 21.

SENATE.

The resolution lately introduced by Mr. Howard, looking to the acquisition of the British North American possessions west of the Hudson Bay, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Bills were introduced by Mr Wilson to aid in the establishment and support of public schools in the States lately in rebellion.

Mr Rice's bill for a new judicial district in Western Arkansas was defeated—22 to 24.—The result is regarded as an expression that the Senate is averse to any action at the present session upon a dozen similar measures for the creation of new Judicial districts and the appointment of additional U. S. District Judges.

Mr. Stewart's bill to provide for a Solicitor for the Department of the Interior was passed, and the Legislative, Executive and Judicial appropriation bills were then proceeded with.

Mr. Casserly continued remarks of previous day, against the incurred appropriation of $12,000 to the bureau of Education, because of its inefficiency and inutility, he criticised the defects and misrepresentations of the report of the Commissioner, to show its worthless character.

Mr. Sawyer defended the report of the Commissioner, and advocated the increase as intended to make subsequent report more valuable.

Mr. Cole closed the debate of the principles of the Republican party, to which Democrats were instinctively opposed.

Mr. Casserly's amendment to strike out increase to Educational bureau was then rejected, and Mr. William's to increase the salaries of Comptroller and Auditors of Interior and Treasury departments, Assistant-Postmaster-General, and Commissioner of Customs and Pensions, to $1,000 per annum, was adopted 30 to 21.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. Dawes of Mass., the rules were suspended and it was voted to consider the regular appropriation bills in the House as in Com. of the Whole, in the order reported, and that after 2 p. m. to-day they take precedence of all orders until disposed of.

Mr. Wheeler of New York, from the Pacific Railroad Committee, reported back with amendments, the Senate bill to incorporate a Texas Pacific Railroad Co. and aid in its construction. The amendment proposed changes some of the names of the corporators and changes the name of the Company to that of South Pacific Railway Co., and reduces the capital from $100,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Mr. Wheeler explained that the amendment reported by him to bill from the Senate provided for six different lines. The amendment provides for a single trunk from a point on the eastern boundary of Texas, at or near Marshall, to ship channel in the Bay of San Diego, Cal., pursuing the route known as 32d parallel of North latitude. The Senate amendment provided for a gauge of five feet. This amendment proposes a uniform gauge.

Mr. Wheeler demanded the previous question and declined to yield the floor to other gentlemen. The demand was seconded, when Mr. Beatty of Ohio moved, but the House refused, to adjourn.

The main question was then ordered, and Mr. Buckley of Alabama, to whom Mr. W. being entitled to close the debate, allowed three minutes.

Mr. Allison's amendment excluding from consolidation such railroads as may hereafter be chartered, was agreed to—74 to 51, and the bill as reported from the committee, passed—134 to 70.

The only New England members voting nay were Messrs. Hale, Stevens, Willard, Buffington, Strong and Starkweather, and the only Southern members were Adams, Jones, Rice and Degener.

The resolution from the Com. on Elections on Shields and Van Horn, election case from Missouri, giving the seat to Van Horn, the sitting member, and $5000 to Shields for expenses, was adopted, and the House adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Feb. 21.

U. S. Consul Jackson at Halifax, telegraphs that the British ship Zoe, which lately cleared from Boston with provisions for the French was wrecked last night on Bell Rock, near Halifax. The vessel and cargo are a total loss.

The Republican members of the 42nd Congress, will hold a caucus on Thursday, March 2, for the nomination of officers of the House.

The Carnival festivities closed this afternoon with a tournament and procession of maskers. Both Houses of Congress adjourned in time to see the latter performance. To-night Pennsylvania avenue is illuminated and balls are in progress.

The President has signed the bill providing for a territorial government for the District of Columbia.

POLITICAL.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 21.

The Democrats to-day elected Francis E. Carroll, Mayor, by 134 majority, a Democratic gain of 500 during the last year. Five of the eight Aldermen are Republicans.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21.

Gov. Randolph has signed a resolution ratifying the 15th amendment. Both Houses of the Legislature refused to adjourn over Washington's birthday.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

New York, Feb. 21.

Ex-Secretary Hugh McCulloch, Benjamin Moran, J. S. Morgan and Russel Sturgis, have telegraphed from London their consent to act as an American Committee to receive and distribute funds for relief of the starvation in France. The total amount collected in this city now amounts to $100,741.

The trial of the suit of the U. S. against Weed & Co., one of the largest importing houses in this city, to recover $400,000, the value of two cargoes of sugar fraudulently invoiced at the Custom House, was begun to-day before Judge Blatchford.

—The Congressional Temperance Society of Washington recommended that the 22d day of February (Washington's Birthday) be observed as a Temperance Anniversary, and the same recommendation was endorsed by the State Temperance Committee, in accordance with which the several meetings at the different churches this (Wedenesday) evening it is expected will make the subject of temperance a specialty, and it is hoped there will be a full attendance.

—The silver medal to be presented to the second best drilled man in the Jameson Guards at Norombega Hall this evening, has arrived and is on exhibition at White & Leonard's. This medal is the exact counterpart of the gold medal, being engraved and enameled in precisely the same manner. It cost $30 and may well content a man even if he does not gain the first prize. Several members of the Governor's staff will be present, besides many military gentlemen from different parts of the State. The hall will be well filled with spectators, as great interest is taken in the result of the competitive drill.

Mayor Prentiss' Party The party at Hon Henry E. Prentiss' last evening was one of the finest ever given in the city. The company that filled his elegant and spacious mansion at Elmbank was large—some six hundred being present—and comprised the elite of society in this and other Maine cities. The array of rich and tasteful toilets presented was bewildering, even to the eye of our reporter, who professes himself utterly unable to attempt a detailed description of the assembled loveliness. The host and hostess, assisted by the accomplished members of the family, used every exertion to make their guests happy and succeeded admirably. [illegible] dancing, the [illegible] all that [illegible] desire, and it was a long way into the morning [illegible] hospitable doors.

Ship building in Brewer. Isaac Dunning & Son, have just finished and set up the frame of a three-masted schooner of about 300 tons in their yard in Brewer, to be launched the present season. This will be one of the Messrs. Dunning's best vessels, and is for sale. Messrs. Dunning and Son are also repairing at their yard Schooners Effort of Bangor, and Globe of Brewer. The repairs are well under way, and will probably be completed by the time the river opens.

In the yard of Jos. Oakes, the Schr Leopard of Boston, (one-half owned by Bangor parties) is being rebuilt, and is nearly finished. The frame of a three-masted schooner of 300 tons is being got out at this yard, and the keel is already laid.

—Just as the up passenger train was approaching Danville Junction at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the engineer observed two men on the track and blew the whistle several times: but they appeared to take no notice of the train until it was close upon them.—One of the men stepped off, but the other, Patrick Haley of Lewiston, was knocked down and run over by the locomotive and his right arm and leg so crushed that it was necessary to amputate both. He was still living last evening, but there is very little hope of his recovery. The Maine Central train was delayed to take him to Lewiston, and was half an hour late at this city in consequence.

—The Lewiston Journal says that Rev. J. M. Garland of Westport, has recently presented to Bates College a valuable donation of specimens of silver ore from Nevada, representing eighteen different mines and consisting of several of the most interesting varieties of that mineral.

—Dr. W. L. Thompson of Augusta, was thrown from his sleigh and severely bruised on Sunday afternoon, says the Journal, and will not be able to be out for several days.

—On Friday evening of last week, between nine and ten o'clock, C. Bradford's store in Patten was entered by a fifteen-years old lad, who appropriated two watches from the show case and what scrip there was in the draw, —about $75. He was caught the next morning, says the Voice.

—The Voice says a lady in Patten, observing that her cat was cold, put her into the stove oven, which was moderately warm, to "bring her to" a little. In a short time, a good fire was built in the stove but the cat was forgotten—and the family had cat-pie for dinner.

—F. W. Stimson and Dudley Shields of Lisbon are lumbering this winter in Center Co. Penn., on land owned by Mayor Prentiss of Bangor. They will haul to the stream this season three and a half millions of pine, with four horses and a crew of twenty men.

—The Voice says Benjamin Bither, who has lived in Linneus about forty years; one of the oldest settlers in the town, died Feb 9. He was 78 years old, and raised a family of fifteen children; all of whom, except one, are living.

—Portland has a colored women 104 years old.

—Mr. A. A. Burleigh, one of the County Commissioners, was quite seriously injured in Oakfield, by falling from a load of hay last week.

Six of the hens hatched and reared sixty-five turkeys. The turkeys and eggs brought him $150.00. Cost of keeping and fattening, $50, leaving him a net profit of $100.00.

—The Gardiner Reporter says that one of the coldest days of last week, a feeble man belonging in that town, was seen driving into Gardiner with a load of wood, while his wife was following with another load. Her husband is in very poor health, and she arose at half-past four in the morning, loaded the wood on the team, and started with him for the city.

—The Republican says that Larkin Lawrence, of East Machias, while walking in the street, Monday, was struck full in the breast by a fast driven horse, and knocked senseless.

—A new rail-scraper is now being tested on the Grand Trunk Railway, and apparently with great success. It is intended, if it turns out all it promises, to be attached to every train.

—Mr. Asa Ward, of Whiting, was seriously injured at that place by the falling of a tree, one day last week. Report said at one time that he was dead, but that is not confirmed.

—The Shoemakers Co-operative Association at Getchell's Corner, Vassalboro, have stopped work. It is found impossible to make sales advantageously in competition with large capitalists in other places, and it is feared that the movement will prove a failure. This is to be regretted because it is believed to be the only co-operative association in Maine.

—As Mr. Hiram Patten of Pittsfield, accompanied by his wife, was driving down to Riverside, one day last week, to see his brother-in-law, he suddenly complained of dizziness and relinquished the reins to his wife. Important to Bondholders. By the conditions expressed in the bonds the U. S. Government has the right to call in and redeem its 5-20 Bonds any time after five years from the date of each issue. The issues of 1862, 1864, and 1865, are now redeemable, and the Government is about to avail itself of its privileges by redeeming them in gold at par, —giving to holders of the bonds the option of taking gold, or new Five (5) per cent. Gold Bond at value of par in gold,—in exchange for 5-20's. These new 5 per cent. Bonds will thus cost a premium of 10 to 12 per cent. in currency, (the value of gold).

In preference to either method, very many holders of Government Bonds are taking advantage of the low price at which the Maine Central R. R. Extension Bonds can at present be purchased, and are exchanging Government Bonds (for which the latest quotations are paid) for these securities, which are sound and first class in every respect. The M. C. R. R. Extension Bonds are secured by a First and Only Mortgage on the Extension from Danville Junction to Cumberland,—besides being a lien upon the entire line and property of this great and prosperous Corporation. To ensure the early completion of this important and profitable link of road, the Bonds are being sold at the very low price of Ninety (90) and accrued interest in Currency and the remarkably rapid sales made since they were put into market on January 1st, show that investors are quick to improve the opportunity of obtaining such thoroughly sound securities at so low a price. They pay 6¾ per cent. (in gold) per annum,—now equal to nearly 7½ per cent. in currency, on present cost. Gov't 5 per cent Gold Bonds, costing the price of Gold, (111) pay but 4½ per cent. (in Gold) per annum, while costing some $200 on each thousand more than M. C. R. R. Extension Bonds. These and many other considerations are causing the remainder of the issue to be rapidly taken; and when once all sold from the Agent's hands, these desirable securities cannot be obtained except at a material advance from present price.

Address correspondence and remittances to Elias Merrill, Agent M. C. R. R. for the sale of said Bonds.

The advertisement in another column will give some further particulars.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD,

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

THE FIRST THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE STATE

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000), and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located, for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond), and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of February 1st, 1871.

THE FIRE BY THE SEA.

BY ALICE CARY.

There were seven fishers with nets in their hands,
And they walked and talked by the seaside sands;
Yet sweet as the sweet dew-fall
The words they spake, though they spake so low,
Across the long, dim centuries flow,
And we know them, one and all—
Aye! know them and love them all.

Seven sad men in the days of old,
And one was gentle, and one was bold,
And they walked with downcast eyes;
The bold was Peter, the gentle was John,
And they all were sad, for the Lord was gone,
And they knew not if he would rise—
Knew not if the dead would rise.

The live-long night, till the moon went out,
In the drowning waters they beat about;
Beat slow through the fogs their way;
And the sails dropped down with ringing wet,
And no man drew but an empty net,
And now 'twas the break of the day—
The great, glad break of the day.

"Cast your nets on the other side—"
'Twas Jesus speaking across the tide)—
And they cast and were dragging hard;
But that disciple whom Jesus loved,
Cried straightway out, for his heart was moved:
"It is our risen Lord—
Our Master, and our Lord!"

Then Simon, girding his fisher's coat,
Went over the nets and out of the boat—
Aye! first of them all was he;
Repenting sore the denial past,
He feared no longer his heart to cast
Like an anchor into the sea—
Down deep in the hungry sea.

And the others through the mists so dim,
In a little ship came after him,
Dragging their net through the tide;
And when they had gotten close to the land
They saw a fire of coals on the sand,
And with arms of love so wide,
Jesus, the crucified!

'Tis long, and long, and long ago,
Since the rosy light began to flow
O'er the hills of Galilee;
And with eager eyes and lifted hands
The seven fishers saw on the sands
The fire of coals by the sea—
On the wet, wild sands by the sea.

'Tis long ago, yet faith in our souls
Is kindled just by that fire of coals
That streamed o'er the mists of the sea:
Where Peter, girding his fisher's coat,
Went over the net and out of the boat,
To answer, "Lov'st thou me?"
Thrice over, "Lov'st thou me?"

Slate Quarries in Monson.—A correspondent of the Dover Observer gives the following description of the Monson Slate Quarries:

The slate vein first makes its appearance in this town in what is known as the "William's Quarry," about one-third of a mile from the hotel. This quarry is but partly opened but promises well. The course of the ledge is in a southwesterly direction. It next creeps out in the "Eureka Quarry." This quarry has been worked since last August. A depth of about 25 feet has been reached by the workmen. It is believed that as good slate has been manufactured from this quarry with less expense than in any other that has been opened in the State. Only about six feet of ledge has to be removed to reach a fair article of slate. The company employ seven men at present, and have on hand about $1,000 worth of good marketable slate. The ledge next appears in what is known as the "Dr. Norris Quarry," which is as yet quite undeveloped, though there is no doubt that it will prove a valuable investment for the Doctor. We next discover the vein in the "Hebron Pond Quarry," popularly known as the Jeriffer Quarry. No work has been done here, but the owners propose to open it the spring, as also do the proprietors of the other two. The last named quarry is upon the bank of Hebron Pond, beneath which the vein dips and does not afterward come to the surface. The ledge is of sufficient width and unusually free from flint or quarts, or rust in all of these proposed quarries. All who have seen the slate which has been manufactured, pronounce it first quality in softness, color, rift, &c., and we confidently believe there is a mine of wealth in the new undeveloped slate in Monson.

Thousand who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time have found they have been deceived and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

L

[From R. F. McLaughlin, Franklin House, Bangor.]

I have used it in my house and stable, and can say that it is all it is recommended and deserves a fair trial from all in need of such an article.

I

[From J. S. Ingraham, Druggist, Bangor.]

It sells well and gives our customers perfect satisfaction.

N

[From John Ross, Lumberman, Bangor.]

I think it is an excellent article, equal to any I ever used.

I

[From Blood & Rowe, Druggists, Bangor.]

It only needs to be used to be appreciated.

M

[From Charles Brown, Lumberman, Bangor.]

I gladly recommend it as the best I ever used, and sincerely hope it may meet an extensive sale.

E

[From F. McDonough, Bangor.]

I had a great deal of trouble with my lungs, and having been sorely afflicted with a cough. I also had trouble with my stomach. I obtained some of Dr. Hoffman's Celebrated German Liniment and it entirely cured me. And I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure in giving my testimony.

N

[From Mrs. N. Smith, Bangor.]

I have used Dr. Hoffman's Celebrated German Liniment and have never been disappointed in its giving immediate relief, [illegible]
